SENSORY KITS

Learning activities and resources for kids and teens on the autism spectrum

Request them at your library or visit cefls.org/library-of-things.
We know that many toys, activities, and resources for individuals on the spectrum tend to be pricey. That's why these kits provide an opportunity to give these items a try without having to purchase them.

The kits don't only include things for kids or teens on the spectrum, they also include resources and guides for families and caregivers.
